OUR COMMITMENT

Trail & Timberline has been the official publication of The Colorado Mountain Club since 1918.

MISSION STATEMENT

The Colorado Mountain Club is organized to

- ▶ unite the energy, interest, and knowledge of the students, explorers, and lovers of the mountains of Colorado;
- ▶ collect and disseminate information regarding the Rocky Mountains on behalf of science, literature, art, and recreation;
- ▶ stimulate public interest in our mountain areas;
- ▶ encourage the preservation of forests, flowers, fauna, and natural scenery; and
- ▶ render readily accessible the alpine attractions of this region.

ENVIRONMENTAL STANCE

The Colorado Mountain Club has a long history of environmental protection and stewardship. Since its founding in 1912, the CMC has been instrumental in landmark achievements such as the designation of Rocky Mountain National Park, Dinosaur National Monument, and the passage of the Wilderness Act. Today, we continue this tradition by working with land managers, partners, politicians, and coalitions to protect our last wild places in Colorado.

Another long-standing tradition at the club has been the publishing of Trail & Timberline magazine. Since the magazine began over almost 100 years ago, we have reported on the latest conservation victories and challenges around the state. This news has become increasingly important for our readership of active outdoors people, and their personal commitment to the environment shows: every day, more of our readers choose to replace paper mailings with electronic communications. This saves money and paper, but also reduces our carbon footprint related to shipping and transport of materials.

By advertising in Trail & Timberline, you'll reach some of the most environmentally conscious readers in Colorado—readers who purchase not only high-end sports equipment and clothing, but also products that are green and make ecological sense.

Reach the customers on the cutting edge of the outdoors market in the Rockies: they are the readers of Trail & Timberline.
